LipSmart is one of the most versatile products you can use on your lips--and also one of the most helpful. This little overachiever in a tube can moisturize your lips and make your lips look plumper. Since many lip plumping products tend to make lips really dry, this is quite a revolutionary combination.

LipSmart plumps lips without the use of irritating ingredients--your lips won't sting or swell like they will with other popular plumpers. Instead, LipSmart uses naturally occurring amino acids that help to make lips appear fuller while also improving the contour and definition of lips. The product's oligopeptide technology is super-hydrating for lips, plus it works other magic like stimulating collagen production and working to make lips smoother and more free of lines and wrinkles. Phytokine--a natural soy extract--also helps to hydrate lips and fill in those lines and wrinkles.

Suggested usage is 2-3 times a day, but don't be surprised if you want to use LipSmart more often. It's incredibly soothing on lips that are still getting over the harsh, cold winter of 2011. LipSmart melts into lips to soothe and hydrate; it doesn't hang out on top of your lips being sticky and mucking up any stray hairs that may fly into your face as you're moving around. After 29 days it's possible for you to see the plumping effects of LipSmart, but you'll feel the hydrating, softening, and soothing benefits of LipSmart within seconds of using it. If you want soft, kissable, and plumper lips, there's no better product to help you achieve these results than LipSmart.
