

TOP-NOTCH PAMPERING

What's In Your Ski Bag?

While flatlanders may spend more time outside in the warmer months, here in the mountains wintertime is our time, and a beauty regimen has to cope with more sun, more wind, more dryness. Be prepared! Here, some up-to-the-minute choices for keeping your skin, hair, and overall mood in top condition.

BEST Face Creme

Crème d'Olives Moisturizing Olive-Leaf Extract is formulated for this altitude and keeps skin moist. $135 at Cos Bar

Shiseido SPF 32 Eye Cream offers protection from the sun and heals damaged skin. $31 at Cos Bar

Molton Brown Silverbirch Thermal Muscle Soak: Toss a cap or two into the tub and recharge after a long day. $28 at Gorsuch

LipsMart Ultra-Hydrating Lip Treatment stimulates the production of collagen. $30 at Cos Bar

La Mer UV Protecting Fluid SPF 30 for the face and neck is pocket-sized—for carrying in your ski jacket. $65.50 at Cos Bar

Korres Lip Butter: A pop of color and rice wax to seal in hydration, leaving lips smooth all day. $9 at korres.com

Kiehl's Olive Fruit-Oil Nourishing Conditioner keeps hair soft. $19 at Gorsuch

Yves Saint Laurent Everlong Lengthening waterproof mascara for the longest lashes on the slopes. $28.50 at Cos Bar

Moroccan Oil and Hydrating Mask for hair provide intense, non-greasy moisture that replenishes. $38, Queen B Salon

Bobbi Brown Lip Gloss beautifies the lips while protecting them at the same time. $20.50 at Cos Bar

Amore Pacific Tinted Moisturizer SPF 15 means you get color and hydration in one lotion. $70.50 at Cos Bar

Korres Watermelon Sunscreen Spf 30: Fight signs of aging using natural ingredients and silky formulations. $28 at korres.com

Kiehl's Imperial Body Balm soothes tough, dry areas such as elbows and feet. $42 at Gorsuch

